JAROD SCHROEDER

NORTHERN ILLINOIS '95
INTERIM HEAD COACH
SECOND SEASON

Jarod Schroeder enters his second season at Maryland, assuming a new role as interim head coach. Schroeder spent the 2006-07 season as the primary coach for the sprint group, placing three athletes in the top eight at the ACC championships.

"I am very pleased to have the opportunity to lead this program," said Schroeder.

"We have all the tools in place to create a championship caliber team. Our young and energetic coaching staff has a lot of National Team experience and we will use that experience to challenge our student-athletes to strive for that level of excellence. Our student athletes understand the values of camaraderie, sportsmanship, hard work, dedication, and commitment. More importantly, they understand that together, as a team, this program will move forward. It is a very exciting time to be a Terp."

A 1995 graduate of Northern Illinois University, Schroeder worked as a volunteer assistant for the Northwestern swimming and diving program beginning in 2000. As a sprint coach for that perennial top-25 program, he mentored Olympic Trials qualifiers, Big Ten Champions, an NCAA champion, and U.S. National Finalists.

In addition to his duties with the Wildcats, Schroeder served as the head coach of the New Trier Swim Club in Winnetka, Illinois beginning in 2002. While at New Trier, he developed Olympic Trials qualifiers, U.S. Open finalists, and U.S. National finalists, and was named the Illinois Swimming Coach of the year on two occasions.

After finishing a career at NIU in which he served as team captain and was a two-time Illinois Collegiate Swimmer of the Year, Schroeder took on volunteer assistant coaching jobs at his alma mater and the University of Wisconsin.

Schroeder, who was elected to the NIU Athletics Hall of Fame in 2006, carried impressive stats during his swimming career. He was co-captain of the 1999 Pan-American Games team, where he was a double silver medalist. The previous year, he was a member of the 1998 USA Goodwill Games Team. While at NIU, he was a three-time Mid-America Conference Swimmer of the Year, earning seven individual conference titles and three Conference records.

Schroder and his wife Liz enjoy traveling and the fine arts. The couple resides in Columbia, Md.

Christianson was a part of three of Auburn's four national championship teams. The Tigers won three straight NCAA titles from 2002-2004. A 15-time All-American, Christianson won gold in the 100 fly at the 2003 World University Games in Korea. She was named team captain for the 2005 World University Games in Turkey, where she won gold in the 4x100 medley relay and bronze in the 100 fly. In 2004, she placed third in the Olympic trials.

Clements came to College Park after a head coaching position for the Roland Run Stingrays and Mariners Swim Club.

He completed a successful career at Auburn in 2002; he was part of four SEC championships and the 1999 National Championship. He set three Auburn school records in the 400 IM, 500 free and 1650 free. Clements also swam to five SEC conference titles and swam to 13 NCAA All-American Honors. Clements finished third in the 200 IM, fourth in the 400 IM, and fifth in the 400-free at the 2000 Olympic Trials, and he finished fifth in the 200 IM at the 2004 Olympic Trials.

After a successful career at Auburn, Clements swam professionally for Speedo while part of the North Baltimore Aquatic Club. During his time in Baltimore, Clements became the second-fastest American ever in the 200 IM and in 2004 was the National Champion in the 400 IM.

EPPLEY RECREATION CENTER

Opened on Jan. 31, 1998, the Eppley Recreation Center Natatorium at the University of Maryland is one of the premier swimming and diving venues in the country. Featured in such national publications as Swimming Technique and International Aquatics magazines, the Eppley Recreation Center Natatorium not only benefits the Maryland swimming and diving teams, but also the University of Maryland community itself.

The Eppley Recreation Center Natatorium was part of the $40 million Eppley Recreation Center. It features one 50x25-yard pool with two movable bulkheads and an underwater sound system. There are two one-meter diving boards and two three-meter diving platforms. The natatorium pool holds more than 1.5 million gallons of water.

With seating for more than 1,000 spectators, the Eppley Recreation Center Natatorium has and will play host to such national and regional events as the 1999, 2002 and 2006 ACC Championships and the YMCA Nationals in the summer of 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004. The 1999 and 2000 FINA World Cups were held at the Eppley Recreation Center Natatorium, making it the focus of national and international attention during the championships. The facility also hosted the 2003 USA Swimming Summer Long Course National Championships.

In addition to the natatorium, the Eppley Recreation Center also has fitness and weight-lifting equipment, indoor basketball and volleyball courts, and an indoor track. A large outdoor pool complements the Eppley Recreation Center and Natatorium, finishing a facility that is one of a kind and can only be found at the University of Maryland.

2007-08 WOMEN'S OUTLOOK

TERPS HOPE TO BUILD ON LAST SEASON

The Maryland Terrapins finished the 2006-07 season with an overall record of 6-5, and a mark of 3-3 in the ACC. Interim head coach Jarod Schroeder is excited about the mix of returning veterans and a talented crop of freshman that make up the 2007-08 Terrapins.

"Our veterans will provide guidance to our ten newcomers," said Schroeder. "It's an exciting blend for our team and I expect us to make tremendous strides this year."

The Terps will count on to key seniors to lead the squad. Captain Emily Smoak finished her season at the ACC Championships as a consolation finalist in the 100 breast, placing 21st overall. She also contributed to a sixth-place finish in the 200 free relay with an NCAA B-cut time.

"This is Emily's second year as captain," noted Schroeder. "She will serve as the sole captain on the women's side. She is somebody who is successful academically and in the pool. Emily is a role model for our entire freshman class, and we're looking to recruit that type of person onto our squad for the future."

Maya Finkler was a top finisher in the consolation finals at the ACC Championships for the 100 free, placing 17th. She also contributed to a third-place finish in the 800 free relay with an NCAA B-cut time.

The Terps will also look to sophomore Jen Vogel, who participated in the US Nationals this summer in the 100 and 200 butterfly

She also represented Maryland well at the ACC Championships with a sixth-place finish in the 400 medley relay and was a bonus consolation finalist, placing 18th overall in the 200 individual medley.

"One of our strengths this season will be our underclassmen, since the majority of our swimming team is freshman and sophomores," said Schroeder.

Leading that depth in the freshman class is Jessalyn Crawford. Crawford begins her career at Maryland after competing in this summer's US Nationals in Indianapolis, Ind. She competed in the 400 meter medley and free relays with her club program.

Schroeder is joined on the staff by Demerae Christianson and Kevin Clements, giving the Terps a talented coaching staff to go with a talented team.

The women's team is equipped wit hall the necessary components for a successful 2007-08 season. Maryland begins the season hosting two exhibition matches before the season opener against Johns Hopkins on Friday, October 26. In late February, the Terps will travel to Atlanta, Ga., for the ACC Championships, looking to earn a spot in the NCAA Championships in March.

"We're expecting a strong duel-meeting showing this year and hope to improve quite a bit, but will use the regular season as a step towards the ACCs at the end of the year," said Schroeder. "It is always a goal of ours to focus on the ACCs, and hopefully take that next step toward the NCAAs at the end of the season."

2006-07 WOMEN'S REVIEW

TERPS SHOW PROMISE FOR THE FUTURE

The University of Maryland women's swimming and diving team hosted Johns Hopkins to begin the 2006-07 season off with a victory. Maryland dominated the meet, taking first in eight individual events in addition to the 200-yard medley relay with the team of former Terps Natalie Ferdinand, Gigi deToll and Kaleena Laputka, and senior Emily Smoak.

The Terps then headed to Durham, N.C., where they triumphed against Duke and NC State in the first ACC competition of the season. Junior Yelena Skalinskaya led Maryland with wins in the 50 and 100-yard freestyles while sophomore Andrea Lehner took the 200 and 1000-yard freestyles, also finishing with an NCAA B-cut time. Sophomore Nina Rossi picked up two first place finishes in the 200-yard butterfly and 200-yard individual medley.

To add to this early-season success, Maryland had an impressive third place finish at the 2006 Terrapin Cup Invitational. Sophomore Jen Vogel led the way, winning the 200-meter butterfly while Lehner also placed third as a championship finalist in the 500-yard freestyle and 100-yard backstroke, swimming with an NCAA B-cut time in the 1650-yard freestyle. Rossi and fellow sophomores Annie Broome and Patty DeScenza were also championship finalists in the event, taking fifth, seventh, and eighth place respectively.

The Terps headed back on the road to face West Virginia. Skalinskaya led the Terps with second-place finishes in the 50 and 100-yard freestyles while Lehner took first in the 100-yard backstroke. The Terps dominated the 100-yard butterfly at the meet, with Vogel, Broome, and DeScenza taking the top-three places.

In January, Maryland traveled to North Miami, Fla. for a training trip and relay meet hosted by Florida International University. The Terps placed first, winning seven out of the eight relay events.

Maryland hosted Pittsburgh, Villanova, and Richmond for Senior Weekend. On the first night of competition, Maryland was victorious in three individual events, with Vogel winning the 100-yard butterfly, former Terp Sasha Malanina finishing first in the 400-yard individual medley with an NCAA B-cut time and Lehner taking the 100-yard freestyle with an NCAA B-cut time.

The Terps wrapped up senior weekend with Lehner placing first in the 200-yard individual medley with an NCAA B-cut time, Skalinskaya taking the 50-yard freestyle, and Malanina picking up her second win with a first-place finish in the 200-yard breaststroke. Maryland placed ahead of Villanova and Richmond, but was defeated by Pittsburgh in the quad meet.

Next up for the Terps was a double-dual meet against Virginia Tech and Georgia Tech. Lehner and senior Maya Finkler took the top-two places in the 200-yard freestyle. Lehner went on to win the 500-yard freestyle, Vogel took first in the 200-yard butterfly, and the team of Skalinskaya, Finkler, Lapuka, and Smoak took the 400-yard freestyle relay.

To close out the regular season, the Terps traveled for two dual meets against North Carolina and Virginia. Both ACC proved to be tough losses, but the Terps still preformed strong, winning six events and having two top finishes in the meets.

Maryland finished a solid sixth at the ACC Championships, with several notable individual swims. Malanina led the Terps with a second-place finish in the 400-yard individual medley with an NCAA B-cut time of 4:17.62. Malanina also qualified for the championship final and took fourth with an NCAA B-cut time of 2:02.14 in the 20-yard individual medley.

Lehner took fourth in the championship final for the 200-yard backstroke with an NCAA B-cut time of 1:59.37, winning the consolation final for the 200-yard individual medley taking ninth with an NCAA B-cut time of 2:01.75.

Skalinskaya was a championship finalist in the 50-yard freestyle, taking eighth overall after swimming an NCAA B-cut time of 23.31 in the prelim.

Vogel qualified for the championship final in the 200-yard butterfly placing fourth with a career-best NCAA B-cut time of 2:01.43. Also in the championship final for the 200-yard butterfly, DeScenza took sixth with an NCAA B-cut time of 2:02.39, and Rossi finished in eighth place with a time of 2:04.18.

Rossi was a championship finalist in the 400-yard individual medley, taking seventh place with a season-best time of 4:25.27. Sophomore Jackie Davidson also qualified for the championship final and took eighth overall in the 100-yard backstroke with a season-best time (56.63).

2007-08 MEN'S OUTLOOK

VETERANS LOOK TO GUIDE TERPS

The 2007-08 Maryland men's swimming team is eager to improve on last year's 2-9 overall record, placing eighth in the ACC competition. This year, assistant coach Jarod Schroeder will sign on as the Terps' interim coach, and will hopefully lead Maryland swimming to an accomplished season.

"This is an exciting time in Maryland swimming," said Schroeder. The Terps will welcome 12 freshmen this year to their squad of 27. "The future is bright for our swimming squad. This year, we have an extremely strong recruiting class. This should improve our chances at the ACCs."

This year, the Terps will count on their four seniors to guide the team to a successful season. Captain Jake DiPiazza began his career at Maryland as a walk-on his sophomore year. This summer, he saw at the National Championships in Indianapolis, competing in the 400 free relay. Last season, he established a career-best time in both the 50 free for 29th and the 100 fly for 38th at ACCs. He also ancored the fifth-place 200 free relay team at the championships.

Captain Eric Thomasson, will begin the season after competing in the US Nationals, where he recorded a personal best time in the 100 meter butterfly. Thomasson also competed in the 400 free relay and 400 medley relay. Last year, he boasted a 12th place finish at the ACCs in the 200 fly while placing 19th after qualifying for the bonus consolation in the 100 fly.

Schroeder said, "Eric swam in his first national competition this summer, which he gained invaluable experience from. We look for him to bring that experience to our team this year."

Captain Ken Golaszewski will be the final captain for the Terps. He swam the second leg for the seventh-place 800 free relay team at ACC Championships, while setting a career-best time in the 1650 free to place 14th overall.

Senior Derek Hock competed at the ACC Championships, finishing 23rd in the 1-meter dive and 25th in the 3-meter dive.

"As the lone male diver on the senior squad," said Schroeder, "we will look for his contribution towards our diving program this year."

Juniors Eric Cullen, Andy Dilz, and Dong Kim will also provide experience for the Terps. Kim swam in the 50 and 100 freestyle, and the 100 backstroke, the 400 medley, and the 400 free relays at the US Nationals. During last year's ACCs, Kim took third overall in the 100 free while being a top finisher in the consolation final for the 50 free finishing ninth overall. He also led-off the fourth-place 400 medley relay team, the fifth-place 200 free relay team, the sixth-place 200 medley relay team, and the sixth-place 400 free relay team. Finally, Kim broke the 100 back record last year with a time of 48.93.

"Last year, Dong was the top point winner at the ACCs for our team, with only half a season of training," said Schroeder. "This year, we are looking for big things from him. We look for him to place in the top eight in all three events this year at the ACCs."

Cullen competed at the nationals in the 100 breaststroke and 400 medley relay, while Dilz saw action in the 200 breaststroke, the 400 medley relay, and the 400 free relay.

Leading the pack for Maryland freshman will be Nick Cordes, who competed in the 50 meter freestyle at this year's US Nationals.

"This year, the design of our schedule is mostly at home to keep all of our newcomers in their comfort zone and to help them transition," said Schroeder.

The men's team begins their season on Friday, October 26, hosting Johns Hopkins. Their first ACC meet will be held in College Park, Md. against Duke on Saturday, November 3. Maryland will host five meets this year, including the Terrapin Cup Invitational on November 15-17 and the Testudo Invite on February 1-2.

The Terps will head to Atlanta. Ga. on February 27 to compete in the ACC Championships, hopefully to make it to the NCAA's for the last weekend in March.

2006-07 MEN'S REVIEW

TERPS SHOW PROMISE FOR THE FUTURE

The University of Maryland men's swimming and diving team opened the season with a win in the season opener against Johns Hopkins. The Terrapins took first place in seven individual events in addition to the 200-yard medley relay.

The Terps then ventured to Durham, N.C. to face Atlantic Coast Conference rivals Duke and the North Carolina. Danny Gray and Tim Shepard, along with sophomore Dong Kim led Maryland in a tri-meet with first-place finishes in the 50-yard freestyle, 100-yard freestyle, and 100-yard breaststroke respectively. Maryland also took the 200-yard freestyle relay, but ultimately fell to both the Blue Devils and Tar Heels.

Gray led Maryland to a seventh-place finish at the 2006 Terrapin Club Invitational after winning the consolation final for the 100-yard freestyle. He finished ninth overall in the event.

In January, the Terps traveled to North Miami, Fla., for a training trip and relay meet hosted by Florida International University. Maryland took second place with 126 points after winning six out of the eight relay events during the weekend.

Pittsburgh and Villanova joined the Terps at home during senior weekend. Gray and Kim led the Terrapins with wins in the 100-yard freestyle and 100-yard backstroke, respectively, on the first night of competition. Day two began with Tony Miller taking first in the 200-yard individual medleys. Gray and Kim also took the top two places in the 50-yard freestyle. Maryland finished with a win against the Wildcats but fell to the Panthers.

Next up for Maryland was a double-dual meet against ACC foes Virginia Tech and Georgia Tech, where Gray led the Terps with a second-place swim in the 50-yard freestyle.

The Terrapins wrapped up their season with conference rivals North Carolina and Virginia for dual meets in preparation for the ACC Championships. At UNC, the Terps dominated the 50-yard freestyle event. Gray, Kim and sophomore Ryan Greene took the top three seeds. Maryland also swept the 200-yard medley relay. Maryland continued their success by taking first in the 200-yard medley relay against Virginia.

The Terps finished the season with an eighth-place finish at the 2007 ACC Championships. In the first day of individual event competition, Gray qualified for the championship final in the 50-yard freestyle and took third overall with an NCAA B-cut time of 20.01. Kim won the consolation final for the 50-yard freestyle, taking ninth overall with a career-best time of 20.20. The following day, Kim also won the consolation final for the 100-yard backstroke establishing a career-best time and breaking the school record with 48.93.

Kim's top placement at the ACCs came on the final day of competition where he qualified for the championship final in the 100-yard freestyle and placed third overall with an NCAA B-cut time of 44.57.

Gray followed Kim in sixth place for the 100-yard freestyle after swimming an NCAA B-cut time of 44.40 in the prelim. In the 100-yard butterfly, sophomore Aleksandar Damjanic qualified for the championship final, taking sixth with a season-best time of 48.71. He was also a championship finalist in the 200-yard butterfly, finishing fifth and racking up another season-best time (1:48.28).

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 14TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 14th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 13-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 15 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. In January 2008, she will become a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 13 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $56 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable six national championships during the past two seasons.
- In 2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $31 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 14 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006-07 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps beat Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only nine universities to win the National Championship in football and men's basketball and is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the only other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the fifth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of the past five seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Kathy Nelson Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past five years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the $130 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events – part of a remarkable $250 million upgrade and expansion of athletics facilities during Dr. Yow's leadership of Maryland Athletics.
- In 2006-07, 24 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 13 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 92 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes three Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty whos accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue i Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, homelan security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty are selecte for national leadership and are making news. Many recent majc faculty initiatives receiving significant external support strengthe our homeland security endeavors—centers for research o agrosecurity and emergency management; intermodal freigh transportation security; behavioral and social analyses c terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysics and advance world climate and weather prediction; and a national Center fc Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also hom to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a perennia source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents c the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home nationa championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hockey competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than an university in the nation.

In 2004, Maryland's School of Music hosted the Nationa Symphony Orchestra in its first university residency, and its 200 opera production was declared by the Washington Post musi critic "... as good as any Bohème you are likely to see this sid of the Metropolitan Opera or Covent Garden."

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism programs in China, the University of Maryland is surging aheac Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, an with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is movin aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine brighte than any other in its history.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
NINTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley works with the Maryland swimming & diving teams.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Campus Recreation Natatorium may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Carrie Hubbard in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7062. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland Athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home game. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

HOME OF THE TERRAPINS

BALTIMORE

So much, so close... It's all here beyond the University of Maryland campus. City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes, jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations, shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.... Home of the Terrapins!
